Sr. Immaculate's Feast Day

"Education is the passport of the future, for tomorrow belongs for those who prepare it today". This is true in the case of Sr. Immaculate. The small classroom which she started in a small abode has now expanded as an institution and has reached great heights - both in quality and quantity.

December 8th is celebrated by the Catholic Church as the day of the Immaculate conception. At Swargarani we celebrate 8th December as the Feast Day of our beloved Manager Sr. Immaculate.

The programme commenced with a welcome speech and a beautiful melody of songs composed by our beloved nightingales Mr. Justin and Mrs. Chandrika. The audience was elated to hear the melodious songs. A classical dance was performed by a lovely team of teachers. All the HODs and faculty including the non-teaching staff surprised sister with a charming dance performance. The teachers danced with the Principal and the Manager of the school.

The teachers, presented sister with a bouquet of flowers. The bouquet signified that Swargarani was like a family built of unity and strength, filled with tremendous amount of love and affection. The school coordinators gifted a collage photo frame and a miniature model of the school building white while the non-teaching staff presented sister with a lamp. The lamp proved to be a symbol of how Sr. Immaculate had lighted the lives of so many people. Sr. Immaculate addressed the gathering, expressing her gratitude and love for everyone's involvement and coordination in making the event a grand success. She also appreciated and congratulated everyone for the Ranians Sports Meet. She shared her story of how the doctor had told her that she would not be able to walk in the future seven years ago, but her real motivation was the love towards the institution and the heart and soul (Students) and the staff. Her story was really, inspirational to all of us as students.

The event came out to be a grand success and all of us really enjoyed it. "Teaching is a calling too. And I have always thought that teachers in their way are holy angels leading their flocks out of the darkness." - Jeanerette Walls.

decorated Christmas tree and the crib. The celebration began with a welcome speech by Ms Ashwini B followed by positive vibrations of Christmas Carols. The atmosphere was filled with an aura of festivity by the euphoria of our Ranians. A thought provoking and enlightening message by Fr. Lawrence added fervour to the celebration. He said that Christmas is doing a little something extra for someone and that can be anyone. Our readiness to take the extra mile makes us Christmas. When we bring a smile to someone who is sad and in despair, we become Christmas. He insisted upon the need for each one of us to become Christmas for one another, to become a gift for one another. All the cultural events were presented by our primary students of Classes I, II, III and IV with a variety of programmes organized one after the other. The children rocked the stage with their bright and colourful costumes. It was a delight to watch the programme infused with such intense energy of our young Ranians. KG REPORT

Fancy Dress Carnival

"The most beautiful world is always entered through imagination"- Helen Keller. Fancy dress, although perceived as a fun activity, is of great benefit to children, especially for pre-schoolers who are in the foundation years of building their imagination and vocabulary. Each child is blessed with unique talents and fancy-dress activity is one such approach to nurturing their creativity and imagination. "Fancy dress Carnival" was conducted for pre-nursery children on 10th November 2022 in KG auditorium, Swargarani school. The purpose of conducting the fancy dress was not only to blend learning with fun but also to develop confidence in students by allowing them to get onto the stage and speak in front of the audience. To exhibit their talent, each section was given different themes like – animals, flowers, superheroes, food items, cartoon characters, fairy tale characters and famous people. It stimulated creativity in parents when they had to mix and match whatever items they could find at home to make their children's costumes and props. Students' stage presence and innocence in enacting the character and talking about it, won the hearts of parents and teachers. It was a feast for the eyes to watch the little ones performing with such enthusiasm and confidence. All parents were overwhelmed by the kids' performance. When they left, they all had a smile on their face and thanked the teachers and management for organizing this kind of event that helped their child's development. The memories of such a mesmerising event will be etched in their minds forever.

Exhibition on Means of Transportation

Travelling is always fun for our little explorers, be it by air, water or land. Transportation Day was celebrated for our kindergarten kids to recognize the various vehicles and their modes of transport. And so, to understand our country's transportation system. The theme of transportation was introduced to our tiny tots through an enterprising exhibition where different vehicles were arranged in accordance with their mode of transport. Teachers contributed their share of valuable information on different types of vehicles using their demo models. Children got some first-hand knowledge on the use of a helmet, licence and the traffic rules for various emergency vehicles like ambulances, fire brigade etc. Students had a lively discussion on the types of transport that they have been in and the places they travelled. The exhibition was held for three days for three classes of kindergarten on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of November respectively. Children were more than excited to see the varieties of vehicles that exist while learning a lot of new and interesting things about them and their means of transportation. Brightening the day of the students and parents with wonderful stories, the "Story Corner" event was conducted at Swargarani school for the UKG students on 20th January, where life and expression were in abundance. There is no greater joy nor greater reward than to make a fundamental difference in someone's life. SUPW bridges the gap between life and education making learning effective and valuable, developing among the students the value of being empathetic to the vulnerables. As a part of the SUPW project on Saturday, March 4, 2023, students of Class X visited Thirumugha Ashram - House for the disabled and an old age home, Little Sister of the Poor - an Old Age Home, Nachiketha - school for the disabled and Ananda Marga - an orphanage. It became an opportunity for the students to understand and empathize with the downtrodden and marginalized section of the society. Students carried along with them food items, groceries, stationery etc along with financial aid for the institutions running such homes. Sharing their time and things that they carried, students were able to appreciate the gifts of God that they have received and wanted to share with those who don't have. They felt extremely blessed to have parents, teachers and all the necessary things in their life. Students interacted people with special disabilities, behavioral muddles, mobility impairment and who lacked social and financial support. This visit has really been a life changing experience for the students. In spite of all the odds, these inmates are able to smile and live happily thanking God. It has become a lesson for those who grumble and complain for silly things. A word of appreciation and a deep sense of gratitude to the school management for organizing such a program to get in touch with the reality of life.
